

This little book of photographs is of the shopping carts that never quite made it back to where they should have been. Finding these out of place carts is easy once you start looking and seeing. They are literally everywhere. Sometimes they are close to their initial location and sometimes very far away. Once you start seeing them, you can't stop. Parking lots, street corners, island medians in the middle of two way streets, flower beds, empty fields of grass.....well, you get the idea.

SCAN HERE

<https://www.radiophotography.com/woohoo.html>

Abandoned shopping cart photos by
Duane Lutz

CARTography
III