

Being a grandmother is special no matter how many grandchildren you have

Three generations

My youngest daughter first really proved to be a mother when she started picking her baby's nose

Bille

(to be continued...)

Peter Høvring