

3 for the sea

colours / angles / walking into the sea off the harbour wall

st catherine's
woods are full of
old growth yew
trees, presumably planted by the
duke of ormond and his family

they did this house up since I
took this picture

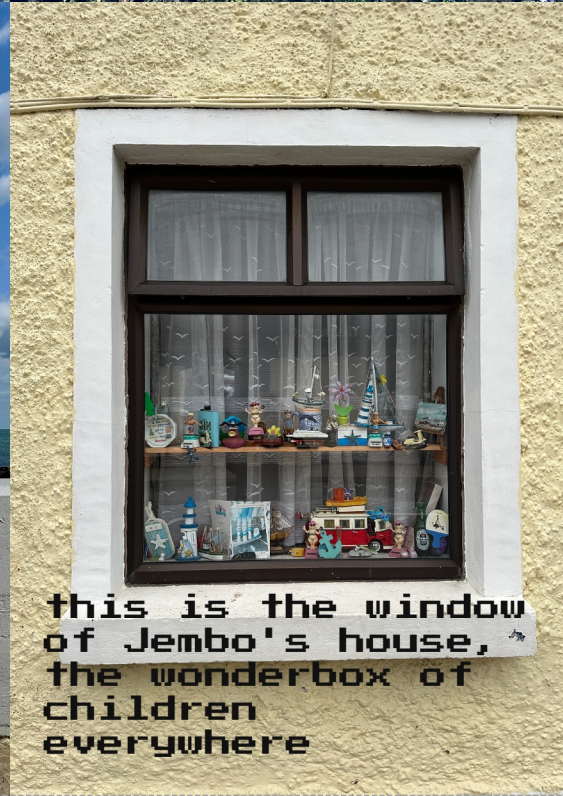

this is a series
of photozines
taking during
every trip home.

this is the window
of jembo's house,
the wonderbox of
children
everywhere

this is a very atmospheric bit of
ivy in st
catherine's woods.
It obviously has
notions.
